18th. November 2008,

To Whom it May Concern

After the success of our first virtual tour created by 360 Vision in 2002, we had no hesitation in asking them to return in 2008 to create a new and updated version for our website.

This time around, we were looking to give potential clients an even clearer perspective on the internal layout and relative positions of the rooms and areas within Trinity House. We were delighted with the proposed solution offered by 360 Vision – a bespoke multimedia virtual tour viewer, which combines 360° imagery with interactive floor plans, 'in-image' clickable hotspots and descriptive text. The viewer itself was designed to match the look and feel of our website and, crucially, is made in Adobe Flash which means it is easy and hassle free for our website visitors to use. Moreover, it was a breeze to install into our website.

The piece de resistance of the new virtual tour is that we can now show the 360° images in full screen High Definition format. How technology has moved on in 5 years! The definition and colour of the images are excellent and they help show off our function rooms like never before. Our new virtual tour forms a highly valuable part of our online sales and marketing strategy.

Once again, I have found 360 Vision's approach to business friendly, flexible and professional. I am delighted with the quality of their product and I would not hesitate to recommend 360 Vision's services to any organization.
